

PIRATES' LOG

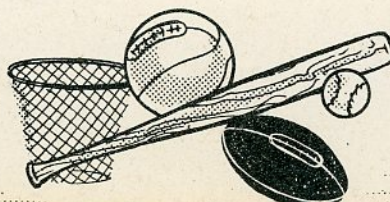

1945-46

Dedication
Gloria Lanestrini

As the curtain falls on one of the greatest catastrophes of human life,
World War II, we dedicate this 1946 Pirate's Log to those who will give the cues for a better life in the future, Tomorrow's Generation. In their hands burns the flaming torch of liberty that will kindle peace for now and generations to come.
Since we are now ending our first tour of this stormy sea of life, our wish is that in the future we may scan the world and this log with true praise and admiration for Tomorrow's Generation.

the best of everything to a very wonderful girl - you can surely look back on your school days with pride - I certainly will when having you amongst - Good luck Gloria! Linda Maxwell

You have that fine cooperative spirit that should carry you a long way. Don't ever lose it!
Mrs. Regina Black

Best of luck, Gloria. I know you will have it anyway. I know you will make a fine teacher. Maybe I can help you. Good luck! Jack Smith

Seniors

The sun was rising over the distant hills as the class of '46 entered their first year of high school. In the bright glow of the sun there were 31 shining, hopeful faces looking toward a rainbow where they hoped to find their pot of gold. To lead our class in this search, we elected Gloria Canestrini as President; Ed Pallamounter, Vice-President; and George Peppinger, Secretary-Treasurer. To represent us in all our difficulties we elected Doral Wilde and Beverly Dodds. Miss Gallagher guided us on the right path in our first year. Our first effort to reach the pot of gold was when we presented a play entitled "Some People Have All the Luck". The first year ended, and we were given 3 months' rest so that in our second year we would reach higher and better goals.

We started back to school in September with Leonard Crouch as our President; Jack Mullen, Vice-President; and George Peppinger again our Secretary-Treasurer. Our representatives were Beverly Dodds and Bill Zelenka. Miss Moist was our sponsor. During this year we won one bond contest and lost another. The sun was now high in the sky and our treasure waiting for us, but we made little progress, and our second year of searching was quickly over.

For the third time we started out, and this time with higher hopes, because we were now Juniors. We expected to accomplish much, and our aims were fulfilled. First our leaders were elected. George Peppinger, President; Leonard Crouch, Vice-President, Gloria Canestrini, Secretary-Treasurer; representatives, John Gaylord and Phyllis Evans. Our most helpful sponsor was Miss Tibbitts. At our homecoming celebration, Gloria Canestrini was elected Homecoming queen. In April we presented a three-act play "Miss Jimmy". Our play was a huge success and set us farther toward our goal. During the same month we held our Junior Prom. The theme was a "Dutch Garden". The highlight of the Prom was when the queen, Beverly Dodds, stepped through a wind mill set up on the stage. Phyllis Evans, and Ailene Bastalich were her attendants.

Near the end of our search we published the school paper. Ailene Bastalich was our editor. The sun was going slowly toward the west but we had another whole year to work and gain knowledge.

Three months went speeding away, and we were now Seniors, preparing to end our search through Reliance High School. With Miss Tibbitts as our class sponsor, our class began the year with 19 members, later increased to 22. Our President was Bill Zelenka; Vice-President, Vernon Wilkes, and Secretary-Treasurer, Gloria Canestrini. George Peppinger represented us in the student council.

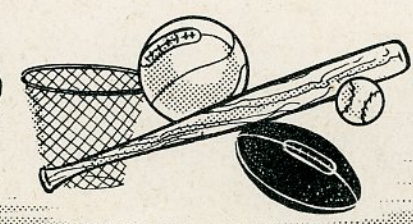

December 7 offered another milestone in our lives when we presented our Senior Hop. Our theme was "Alaska". For the first time at Reliance High "Sweethearts of the Senior Hop" were chosen.

In January several of our class members, John Gaylord, Phyllis Evans, Gloria Canestrini, George Peppinger and Bill Zelenka, represented us at Evans-ton in an inter-school band.

Our next big event was our class play, "Her Step-Husband". Those participating were Nell Smith, John Gaylord, George Peppinger, Phyllis Evans, Katherine Kobler, Mary Korogi, Emil Lemich, Doral Wilde and Helen Davich.

The last and final step was taken at our baccalaureate on May 19. The sun is sinking lower into the west, and a great day in our lives was soon to end.

As the last rays of the sun spread out over us, we received the much-coveted diplomas on May 22. That great day is now ended, but we have succeeded in finding our pot of gold...
